

Directions to Yealmpton Woodland Burial ground

There is no postcode For Lower Heddon because there are no buildings there, but you can find us on the Ordnance Survey map 202 square 56/50Grid ref. SX568 502. The nearest dwelling with a postcode is PL8 2NL.

From Plymouth City Centre, take the A379 towards Kingsbridge. After leaving Plymouth and entering the South Hams, you will go through Brixton village. Carry on through to the other side of Brixton and about a mile further you see a sign for 'Woodland Burial Ground'. Turn right here (on the road, not into the first driveway which goes to Kitley Hotel). Go down into the dip and over the little bridge and up the other side of the hill. On the way up the hill you go through woodland, and then the road has a sharp left bend. After that bend, Lower Heddon is the second field on the left, where you will see another sign 'Woodland Burial Ground'.

From Exeter, take the M5 then the A38 towards Plymouth. Do not take the turning off the A38 signposted for Ermington, Modbury and Yealmpton. Drive on for 6 miles and take the turning signposted Smithaleigh, Yealmpton and Services. As you turn off the A38 here, go past the Little Chef then the petrol station. Stop as a road joins from the right. Then turn left leaving The Smithaleigh Hotel on your right. Follow this lane to the village of Yealmpton (2 miles) then turn right taking the A379 towards Plymouth through the village and out the other side. You will see a sign for 'Woodland Burial Ground'. Turn left and follow the directions above.

By Public Transport, take the number 94 bus from Plymouth to Newton Ferrers. Dismount at Collaton Farm between Yealmpton and Newton Ferrers. Take the adjacent turning signed 'Plymouth light vehicles only'. Yealmpton Woodland Burial is located in the third field on the right.

Please note that our postal address (Yealmpton Community Centre at Stray Park, Yealmpton, Plymouth PL8 2HF) is not the address for the burial ground. There are no buildings at the burial ground, so it does not have a postcode. Please use the directions above.
